Walter Lucas, only son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Lucas, formerly of this place, now residing at Chico, California, had a narrow escape from instant death a few days ago by being run over by a delivery wagon at Chico. One of Chico papers in speaking of the accident says: "Walter Lucas met with an accident which for the time it was feared would result fatally, and which caused the blood of spectators to run chill, but which, happily, so far as present indications go, will not amount to more than slight injuries to the victim." The horse Walter was driving became startled at an object, quickly shied and ran the dray with considerable violence against a telephone pole. The force of the impact caused the driver to fall from the seat in front of the wheel, and the animal continuing to move on, the wheel passed over the prostrate body, from foot to shoulder.

Church Wedding.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at 10.00 a. m. on Wednesday, Nov. 9, 1904, at St. Johns Catholic church in Vandalia, N. Y., when Miss Sadie C. Friel, daughter of Mrs. Ellen Friel, of Reynoldsville, and John K. Manion, of Oil City, Pa., were united in marriage. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Schullin. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Miss Allians played some very pretty wedding music while the guests assembled which merged into Lohengrin as the bridal party entered the church. The ushers, O. H. and C. A. Friel, led the way followed by the maid of honor, Miss Margaret Friel, sister of the bride, who wore a suit of gray. The bride was dressed in a suit of brown broadcloth and carried a white prayer book and rosary beads. They were met by the groom and best man, L. Manion, brother of the groom, at the altar. After the ceremony breakfast was served at the home of the bride's uncle, P. H. Friel, and covers were laid for twelve at the bride's table, which was decorated with beautiful flowers and ferns. At each place was a box of wedding cake with the bride's monogram on it. Music by Prof. Dunbar added to the pleasure of the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Manion left on train No. 3 on the P. R. R. for an extended western tour.

Wreck Sunday Evening.

About 5.40 p. m. Sunday a wreck occurred at the Wishaw junction of the R. & F. C. R'y at this place which badly disfigured and crippled engine No. 4, smashed several coal cars and might have caused the death of two or three railroad men. A train of empty cars had been set in on the Wishaw branch Sunday afternoon and the switch thrown for the main track, but was not locked. Some time after the train of empty cars had been put in on branch and before 5.40 some person, either maliciously or otherwise, threw the switch for the Wishaw branch and when engine No. 4, with a train of empty cars, came down from Falls Creek, running at a high rate of speed, it crashed into the cars on the Wishaw branch. Engineer John D. Patterson, Fireman J. C. Craft and brakeman Parker Chittler were on the engine, which was running backward, and as there is no switch light at the junction they did not know of the danger until the engine started in on the branch track and the cars on the branch were not standing far from the switch, but the three men jumped in time to escape death, for had they not jumped they would have been killed, as the tender piled up on the cab. John Winslow was conductor of the train. Men worked all night and Monday forenoon clearing up the wreck.

Indiana County Coal Town.

The editor of THE STAR spent a day last week at Iselin, Indiana county, the new coal town where the large plant of the Pittsburg Gas Coal Company is located. This company has one of the best, if not the best, equipped plant at Iselin that can be found in the country. It is strictly modern and up-to-date in every respect. Large steel tipple that cost $35,000; large power house in which are large colossal engines and dynamos. The boilers, ten or a dozen, are fired by automatic stokers; coal for the boilers is carried from tipple to boiler room on a large wide belt. Charles Schultze, one of our Reynoldsville boys, has a position in the boiler house to see that the automatic stokers don't neglect their work. No mules used in the mines. Everything worked by electricity.

Hadley's Moving Pictures.

There are moving pictures and moving pictures—pictures that move and pictures that wiggle—pictures that are clean-cut and pictures that are seen as "through a glass darkly," pictures that are as natural as life and pictures that make one seek for a week—in fact no end of pictures and their counterpart. But there is only one Hadley. He is a pioneer in the business and has earned his laurels by hard work and a mint of money. Never mind about the other fellows, Hadley's the thing when it comes to all-round satisfaction. His pictures talk. At Reynolds' opera house Dec. 13 under auspices of the Epworth League.

ESTIMABLE BODY DEAD.

Mrs. John Reed Died Sunday Afternoon After a Long and Painful Illness. Interment at DuBois.

Mrs. Catherine Reed, wife of Mr. John Reed, assistant general manager of the Jefferson & Clearfield Coal & Iron Company, peacefully passed from pain and suffering in this life to the joys of the heavenly land at 2.20 p. m. Sunday, November 13, 1904. For fifteen long years Mrs. Reed had been a sufferer from rheumatism, but she had great will power and christian fortitude and she patiently bore the suffering without murmuring or complaining. No money was spared to find relief for Mrs. Reed, but science and medical skill could not remove the suffering. About thirty years ago she joined the Methodist Episcopal church at Carbon Run, Bradford county, and was ever afterwards a consistent christian. Although unable to attend church service or do church work for a number of years, yet her beautiful christian life was an inspiration for good to those who visited her in her home. Since last March Mrs. Reed's suffering had been intense and finally at about 3.00 a. m. Saturday the weary body could no longer battle against disease and she fell into an unconscious condition, from which she did not fully rally and her earthly pilgrimage ended without a struggle. When she closed her eyes in the last long sleep a noble life ceased on earth and entered into the rest promised to the faithful.

Notwithstanding the fact that for several years Mrs. Reed was not able to walk and she suffered constantly, yet she never lost interest in her home and family. She was a loving wife and kind mother.

Mrs. Reed's maiden name was Catherine Butler Cronk. She was born in Luzerne Co., Pa., August 17, 1851, and was 53 years old last August. About twenty years ago she was united in marriage to John Reed. Two daughters were born unto them, the oldest of whom died at Beechtree seventeen years ago. Deceased is survived by her husband, one daughter, Miss Dora, one sister, Mrs. Austin Blakeslee, of DuBois, and four brothers, David Cronk, of Coal Glen, Samuel Cronk, of Wilkesbarre, J. H. Cronk, of Manorville, and Charles Cronk, of Oregon, West Va.

Four years ago Mr. Reed moved from DuBois to Reynoldsville and although Mrs. Reed was an invalid, a large number of our townspeople become acquainted with her and loved her on account of her sweet disposition and uncomplaining spirit. She was always ready to say, "the Lord's will be done."

Funeral services will be held at the family residence at corner of Main and Seventh streets at 12.00 noon to-day. Dr. J. A. Parsons, pastor of Reynoldsville M. E. church, will have charge of the service, assisted by Rev. Perry A. Reno, of Sharon, former pastor of the Reynoldsville church, and Dr. A. R. Rich, presiding elder of Clarion District. Mrs. Reed's pastor at DuBois five years. The body will be taken to DuBois where interment will be made in the Rumberger cemetery.

Floral tributes were beautiful and elaborate, consisting of an urn from Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Robinson, broken circle, Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson, anchor, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Raddock, pillow, Dr. John H. Murray, gates ajar, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Hammond, Maltese cross, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Blakeslee, bouquet chrysanthemums and ferns, Mr. and Mrs. Whitman, bouquet carnations, from nephews, bouquet carnations, F. H. Beck, bouquet carnations, Dr. C. B. Cranmer and Leonard Fassot, bouquet roses, Miss Ophelia Wesson, pillow, Mr. Reed and Dora, anchor, Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Klehny, harp, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Thurston, cross, four feet high, trustees Reynoldsville M. E. church, bouquet, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Abbott, wreath, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Brown.
